Geier Financial Group Continues To Keep The Brooks Robinson All-Star Game Alive

Press Release: 06/03/13

The Brooks Robinson All-Star Game continues to thrive celebrating its 32nd anniversary this year. Robinson himself, who had been unable to make an appearance the 3 previous years due to health related issues, welcomed each of the 30 premier players in the state.

The awestruck, young baseball players listened intently to Brooks as he encouraged them to honor the sport of baseball, remember those who support them along the way, and always make it a point to give back to the sport that has given and will continue to give so much to them.

Geier Financial Group is honored to play a part in keeping this game alive, and supporting not just the game and time honored tradition of baseball, but the young and talented athletes who make it all possible.
